

From the Chief Executive

This week's Monitor Newspaper announces its final edition after 15 years of publication.

The Monitor has been a Roxby Downs institution and an important message board for local news, community groups, sporting clubs, advertisers and Council. Council acknowledges the contribution of editors, journalists, staff, photographers and other contributors who have made the Monitor.

Whilst the decision to announce the final edition of the Monitor has been made independent of Council, it is understood that the Monitor Board is examining possible futures for the business.

In the meantime Council is committed to a contemporary community voice in Roxby Downs that ensures that the story, experience and events of Roxby Downs and this part of our great Country continue to be shared.

Your ideas on how this can be achieved are welcome. Please send your comments to roxby@roxbycouncil.com.au
